

Mr. Powell,

Please take into consideration the massive negative effects that further media consolidation will no doubt have. Fewer corporate voices with more outlets and power will only serve to decrease the already impaired ability of our press to serve as a watchdog and conduit of uncensored truths. If the current rules for media ownership are relaxed by this administration, you apparently do not have a grasp of the gravity of this situation and its far reaching ramifications. Please take more time to study.

Sincerely,
Charles Lindo
